Let's tell stories of change: the value of Storytelling

What is the best way to inspire others and get them to take action? Tell them your story of change. To enhance its effect, apply the Storytelling technique, the art of storytelling with a focus on conveying emotions.

How do you work with storytelling to make the information more impactful? How do you tell stories that are easy to remember? How do you get something to move the receiver to action? When communicating a story, practice, write down an outline, recording and listening to it.

Recommendations for conducting an interview

This first phase, before starting to collect the different prototypes, is to remember to understand what is happening in the field of action and how it is happening. Then one's own point of view and from the point of view of the people who interact to that issue.

This phase is very important because we have a widening habit of moving directly from the problem to the solution. Instead, by using the DFC Methodology, we can make a parenthesis that allows us to understand from different points of view. In this way, we avoid applying a

Types of prototypes

DRAWING

This is the most basic form of prototyping. Although it consists of simply drawing our idea. It will help us to define aspects that we had not thought of and to draw in a simpler way parts of the idea that are difficult to verbalize.

This drawing is not intended to be a work of art. Keep in mind that the content is important, not the form. The drawing can be a sketch, a drawing, a diagram, a map, a plan, a poster, etc. Besides helping you to better define your ideas, you can also use it to tell your solution to other people and receive feedback. Thus, having the opportunity to improve the idea.

Four techniques to foster creativity

CRAZY IDEAS

Take a few minutes to come up with any "crazy" ideas, i.e. ideas that at first sight are impossible to implement. These ideas are the "background". Ideas that are outside the box of what comes to mind. From them we can build "background" ideas. Let yourself be surprised by your own ideas, they will give you clues to come up with new ideas. And remember, there is no limit to the number of crazy ideas you can come up with. There is only one rule: that

IMPACTIVE

Prostredníctvom teambuildingových aktivít sme sa stali silne prepojenou skupinou, tato úzka spolupráca nám pomohla vyriešiť mnohé problémy. Záčazdym, ako sme získali nové poznatky, navštívili sme nás think tank na kolektívny brainstorming.

Every time we gained new insight we visited our think tank for IMPACTIVE learning.

IMPACT

Students shared the vegetables with their parents. The school interacted with the mayor and reporters. Younger students were taught how to grow vegetables.

IMPACTO

Los alumnos compartieron las verduras con sus padres. La escuela interactuó con el alcalde y los periodistas. A los alumnos más jóvenes se les enseñó a cultivar hortalizas.

Identify partnerships that allow local presence to ensure the realization of Mindset change activities.

- “luccacreativehub” as the new DFC Partner for Italy
- “Exploring possibilities in Las Palmeras”

- How could we (as transversal partners) make the most of the events/trainings organized in each city?
- How could we (as DFC) work closer to the cities so DFC methodology can help them to face their challenges?
